CHAPTER XI

It was not that he had realized heavily in his investments which caused his friends and his enemies to regard him in a new light. His profit had been quite small as things go on the exchange in these days. The mere fact that he had shown such foresight proved sufficient cause for the reversal of opinion. Men looked at him with new interest in their eyes, with fresh confidence. His unfortunates operations in the stock market had restored him to favor in all circles. The man, young or old, who could do what he had done with Lumber and Fuel well deserved the new promises that were being made for him.

Brewster bobbed uncertainly between two emotions, elation and distress. He had achieved two kinds of success, the desired and the undesired. It was but natural that he should feel proud of the distinction the venture had brought to him on one hand, but there was reason for despair over the acquisition of $50,000. It made it necessary for him to undertake an almost superhuman feat--increase the number of his January bills. The plans for the ensuing spring and summer were dimly getting into shape, and they covered many startling projects. Since confiding some of them to Nipper Harrison that gentleman had worn a never decreasing look of worry and anxiety in his eyes.

Ravies added to his despair a day or two after the Stock Exchange misfortune. He brought up the information that six splendid little puppies had come to bless his Boston terrier family, and Joe Bragdon, who was present, enthusiastically predicted that he could get $100 apiece for them. Brewster loved dogs, yet for one single horrible moment he longed to massacre the helpless little creatures. But the old affection came back to him, and he hurried out with Bragdon to inspect the brood.

"And I've either got to sell them or kill them," he groaned. Later on he instructed Bragdon to sell the pups for $25 apiece and went away, ashamed to look their proud mother in the face.

Fortune smiled on him before the day was over, however. He took Subway Smith for a ride in the "green juggernaut," had weather and had roads notwithstanding. Monty lost control of the machine and headed for a subway excavation. He and Smith saved themselves by leaping to the pavement, sustaining slight bruises, but the great machine crashed through the barricade and dropped to the bottom of the trench far below. To Smith's grief and Brewster's delight the automobile was hopelessly ruined, a clear loss of many thousands. Monty's joy was short lived, for it was soon learned that three luckless workmen down in the depths had been badly injured by the green meteor from above. The mere fact that Brewster could and did pay liberally for the relief of the poor fellows afforded him little consolation. His carelessness and possibly his indifference had brought suffering to these men and their families, which was not pleasant to look back upon. Lawsuits were avoided by compromise. Each of the injured men received $4,000.

At this time every one was interested in the charity bazaar at the Astoria. Society was on exhibition, and the public paid for the privilege of gazing at the men and women whose names filled the social columns. Brewster frequented the bazaar, presided over by Miss DeWitt, and there seemed to be no end to his popularity. The Lazarus lasted two days and nights, and after that time the crowd could look showed an even greater interest in Brewster. Monty's serenity, however, was considerably ruffled by the appearance of a new and aggressive claimant for the smiles of the fair Barbara. He was a Californian of immense wealth and unbounded confidence in himself, and letters to people in New York had given him a certain entrée. The triumphs in love and finance that he came with his two score years and ten had demolished every vestige of timidity that may have been born with him. He was successful enough in the world of finance to have become four or five times a millionaire, and he had fared so well in love that twice he had been a widower. Rodney Grimes was starting out to win Barbara with the same dash and impulsiveness that overcame Mary Farrell, the cook in the mining camp, and Jane Boothroyd, the school-teacher, who came to California ready to marry the first man who asked her. He was a penniless prospector when he married Mary, and when he led Jane to the altar she rejoiced in having captured a husband worth at least $50,000.

He vied with Brewster in patronizing Barbara's booth, and he rushed into the conflict with an impetuosity that seemed destined to carry everything before him. Monty was brushed aside, Barbara was pre-empted as if she were a mining claim, and ten days after his arrival in New York Grimes was the most talked of man in town. Brewster was not the sort to be dispatched without a struggle, however. Recognizing Grimes as an obstacle, but not as a rival, he once more donned his armor and beset Barbara with all the zest of a champion who seeks to protect and not to conquer. He regarded the Californian as an impostor, and summary action was necessary. "I know all about him, Babs," he said one day after he felt sure of his position. "Why, his father was honored by the V. C. on the coast in '49."

"The Victoria cross?" asked Barbara innocently.
"No, the vigilance committee."
In this way Monty routed the enemy and cleared the field before the end of another week. Grimes transferred his objectionable affection, and Barbara was not even asked to be wife No. 3. Brewster's campaign was so ardent that he neglected other duties deplorably, falling far behind his improvident average. With Grimes disposed of, he once more forsook the battlefield of love and gave his harassed and undivided attention to his own peculiar business.

The fast and loose game displeased Miss Barbara greatly. She was at first surprised, then piqued, then resentful. Monty gradually awoke to the distressing fact that she was going to be intractable, as he put it, and forthwith undertook to smooth the troubled sea. To his amazement and concern, she was not to be appeased.

"Does it occur to you, Monty," she said, with a gentle coldness that was infinitely worse than heat, "that you have been carrying things with a pretty high hand? Where did you acquire the right to interfere with my privileges? You seem to think that I am not to speak to any man but you."

"Oh, come, now, Babs," retorted Monty, "I've not been quite as unreasonable as that. And you know yourself that Grimes is the worst kind of a bouncer."

"I know nothing of the sort," replied the lady, with growing irritation. "You say that about every man who gives me a smile or a flower. Does it indicate such atrocious taste?"

"Don't be silly, Barbara. You know perfectly well that you have talked to Gardner and that idiot Valentine by the hour, and I've not said a word. But there are some things I can't stand, and the impertinence of Grimes is one of them. Jove! He looked at you out of those fishy eyes sometimes as though he owned you. If you know how many times I've fairly ached to knock him down!"

Inwardly Barbara was weakening a little before his masterfulness. But she gave no sign.

"And it never occurred to you," she said, with that exasperating coldness of voice, "that I was equal to the situation. I saw, you thought Mr. Grimes had only to beckon and I would go, fully answer. I'll have you know, Monty Brewster, right now that I am quite able to choose my friends and to handle them. Mr. Grimes has character, and I like him. He has seen more of life in a year of his strenuous career than you ever dreamed of in all your pampered existence. His life has been real, Monty Brewster, and yours is only an imitation."

It struck him hard, but it left him gentle.

"Babs," he said softly, "I can't take that from you. You don't really mean it, do you? Am I as bad as that?"

It was a moment for dominance, and he missed it. His gentleness left her cold.

"Monty," she exclaimed irritably, "you are terribly exasperating. Do make up your mind that you and your million are not the only things in the world."

His blood was up now, but it flung him away from her.

"Some day perhaps you'll find out that there is not much besides. I am just a little too big, for one thing, to be played with and thrown aside. I won't stand it."

He left the house with his head high in the air, angry red in his cheeks and a feeling in his heart that she was the most unreasonable of women. Barbara in the meantime cried herself to sleep, vowing she would never love Monty Brewster again as long as she lived.

A sharp cutting wind was blowing in Monty's face as he left the house. He was thoroughly wretched.

"Throw up your hands!" came hoarsely from somewhere, and there was no tenderness in the tones. For an instant Monty was dazed and bewildered, but in the next he saw two shadowy figures walking beside him. "Stop where you are, young fellow," was the next command, and he stopped.

"Help yourselves, boys."

short. He was in a mood to fight, but the sight of a revolver made him think again. Monty was not a coward; neither was he a fool. He was quick to see that a struggle would be madness.

"What do you want?" he demanded as coolly as his nerves would permit.

"Put up your hands, quick!" And he hastily obeyed the injunction.

"Not a sound out of you or you get it good and proper. You know what we want. Get to work, Bill, I'll watch his hands."

"Help yourselves, boys. I'm not fool enough to scrap about it. Don't hit me or shoot, that's all. Be quick about it, because I'll take cold if my overcoat is open long. How's business been to-night?" Brewster was to all intents and purposes the calmest man in New York.

"Pierce" said the one who was doing the searching. "You're the first guy we've seen in a week that looks good." "I hope you won't be disappointed," said Monty genially. "If I'd expected this I might have brought more money."

"I guess we'll be satisfied," chuckled the man with the revolver. "You're awful nice and kind, mister, and maybe you wouldn't object to tellin' us when you'll be up dis way ag'in."

"It's a pleasure to do business with you, pardner," said the other, dropping Monty's $300 watch in his pocket. "We'll leave car fare for you for your honesty." His hands were running through Brewster's pockets with the quickness of a machine. "You don't go much on jewelry, I guess. Are dese shoit buttons de real ting?"

"They're pearls," said Monty cheerfully.

"My favorite jewel," said the man with the revolver. "Clip 'em out, Bill." "Don't cut the shirt," urged Monty. "I'm going to a little supper, and I don't like the idea of a punctured shirt front."

"I'll be careful as I kin, mister. There, I guess dat's all. Shall I call a cab for you, sir?"

M. WITTE'S VIEWS

Senior Russian Peace Plenipotentiary Speaks Out Frankly.

PEACE AT ANY PRICE

Is Not His View of the Mission, Despite European Reports to the Contrary

Russia Can Never Submit to Humiliating Terms, He Solemnly Avers.

St. Petersburg, July 18.—M. Witte, the senior Russian peace plenipotentiary, received your correspondent at his villa at Yellagin Island. After greetings, which were cordial, the conversation gravitated quickly to the high mission with which the Russian statesman is charged and the disposition of the foreign press to interpret his appointment as an indication that Russia had decided to make peace at any price.

"No, no," said he, straightening up in his chair and speaking slowly and distinctly, as if weighing the value of each word. "In the first place, I have been designated by the emperor as his ambassador extraordinary for a conference with the Japanese plenipotentiaries to ascertain whether it is possible to conclude a treaty of peace. My personal views are of secondary importance, but my ideas are in entire accord with those of my friend, Count Lamsdorff. In serving my emperor I have received precise instructions from his majesty and shall follow them."

"The ultimate decision remains in the hands of the emperor, and it is for him to decide the destinies of Russia. The emperor is the friend of peace and desires peace, but I very much fear that the Japanese terms will be such that we will be unable to reach an accord. Secondly, the world should disabuse its mind of the idea that Russia wants peace at any price. There are two parties in Russia. One favors the continuation of the war to the end—this is a large and influential party. The other, to which I belong, favors peace. I avow it frankly because telling the truth has always been my rule in politics. I was for peace before hostilities broke out. When the war began the situation changed."

"Even though there are these two parties, as to the advisability of ending the war in the present circumstances both would be united if the Japanese demands wounded the sensibilities of the Russian people or jeopardized our future as a nation."

"I am sure if I report that the conditions of Japan cannot be accepted, Russia will accept the verdict and the Russian people will be ready to continue the war for years if necessary. "Thirdly, Russia is not crushed, as the foreign press has led the world to believe. The interior situation is very serious, I do not deny, but in Europe and America the true significance of what is happening is not understood. Correspondents come here and talk with a few hundred people in St. Petersburg and Moscow, misinterpret what is happening and fill the world with false impressions as to Russia's future."

"Russia has little resemblance to Western countries. To know Russia, to understand the soul of the Russian people, it is necessary that one should have been born here or lived many years in Russia. The customs, history and mental attitude of the people are entirely different from those of Western nations and Russia cannot be judged by Western standards. It is such an immense country, composed of diverse elements and interests, yet the Russian people are like a great family. At present they are torn by internal dissensions, but these divisions would disappear should the people really feel that the integrity of the country and its future destiny were at stake."

"Russia is not on the verge of dissolution as a great power and is not obliged to accept any conditions offered, in spite of the military reverses she has sustained."

"We are passing through an internal crisis which has been marked by many grave events and which may have others still in store, but the crisis will pass and in a few years Russia will again take her place as a preponderant power in the European concert."

A Charge of Contempt.

Maysville, Ky., July 18.—A warrant has been sworn out here before United States Judge Cochran, charging Mayor Helmbold of Newport, Ky., with contempt. The alleged contempt is for interference with the orders of the United States court in regard to placing Caleb Powers in jail. At Newport last Monday, Helmbold objected to a special cell being used by Powers, claiming it was unsafe.

Violated Strike Injunction.

Bay City, Mich., July 18.—Miss Lizzie Birney, a domestic, was convicted of violating a strike injunction. She was charged with alluding to two women as "scabs" because they rode on the streetcars, the street railway men having been on a strike for six weeks. Judge Shepard of the circuit court postponed sentence.

WILSON'S BUSY SUMMER

Another Scandal Said to Have Arisen in Agricultural Department.

Washington, July 18.—Secretary Wilson has begun an investigation of a report that a certain female employee of his department has sold questions to be asked in civil service examinations prior to the holding of such examinations. A complaint has been made that this woman for several years has been adding applicants for positions in this manner and that in a number of cases the applicants have paid liberally for the service. The examinations alleged to have been thus manipulated were for positions requiring technical knowledge and the questions were prepared in the department.

Resignation Rumor.

Washington, July 18.—As a result of the friction caused by the leak in the cotton report it is considered almost certain that Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture will retire from the cabinet. It is said that President Roosevelt is dissatisfied with the investigation made by Secretary Wilson.

Seeking Evidence in New York.

Washington, July 18.—Morgan H. Beach, the United States attorney for the District of Columbia, who is in charge of the investigation into the cotton crop scandal, has gone to New York in search of evidence.

VENEZUELA SURPRISED

Judge Calhoun's Commission Is Inexplicable to Them.

Caracas, Venezuela, July 18.—Venezuelans are much surprised on receipt of the news that President Roosevelt has appointed Judge Calhoun a special commissioner to Venezuela to investigate the claims of Americans. The Constitutional, the government organ, says: "If the claims of Americans or others existed they would have been already heard before competent authorities. It may be that the president of the United States reserves information regarding the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company which is still pending. All other cases have been decided by mixed commissions in conformity with the Washington protocols."

SOUND COUNSEL

Philadelphia's Mayor Advised to Proceed Against City Hall Gang.

ON HIS OWN INITIATIVE

The District Attorney Refusing to Act Root Advises Mayor Weaver to Go It Alone.

It Is Now Likely That Criminal Prosecution Will Be at Once Begun.

Philadelphia, July 18.—As a result of advice from Elihu Root, special counsel for Mayor Weaver, it is probable that the mayor will within a few days institute criminal proceedings against certain persons who are prominent in municipal affairs. Mr. Root advises the mayor that in the face of the refusal of District Attorney John C. Bell to take the initiative in bringing further prosecutions, the mayor should use his right to go before a magistrate and carry the prosecutions as far as the law will permit him. This opinion was the result of a conference held in New York last Friday. Those who participated in the conference between Mr. Root and the mayor were ex-United States Attorney General Wayne Macveagh, who is special counsel for the committee of nine of this city; ex-Judge James Gay Gordon, private counsel for Mayor Weaver, and Julien T. Davis and Joseph S. Auernach of counsel for the committee of seventy.

The purpose of the conference was whether the mayor should take the initiative in further prosecutions, the department refusing to follow Mayor Weaver, and Judge Gordon last week requested that the district attorney, in drawing up indictments against Councilman Frank H. Caven and John W. Hill, former chief of the bureau of filtration, should bring the charge of conspiracy with certain other persons to defraud the city. Councilman Caven is under bail for violating his councilmanic oath in being interested in city contracts, and ex-Chief Hill, under bonds on charges of perjury and falsification of records in connection with contracts for the construction of the city's filtration plants. At the hearing given the men before magistrates the name of the contracting firm of D. J. McNichol & Co., which is constructing the greater part of the filtration system, was frequently brought in by witnesses. The members of this firm are former Insurance Commissioner Israel W. Durham, the leader of the local Republican organization, State Senator James P. McNichol and his brother, Daniel J. McNichol.

The district attorney in refusing to add the charge of conspiracy to the indictment drawn up against Caven & Hill to initiate criminal proceedings against "certain other persons," said that such charges based on the evidence taken at the Caven and Hill hearings could not under the law be made. He suggested that the mayor take the initiative. Mayor Weaver and Judge Gordon insisted that it was the district attorney's duty to push the prosecutions, they declaring that the evidence in his hands warranted him in so doing. Mr. Bell persisted in his refusal, and the New York conference followed.

Bold Alaska Bandits.

Seattle, Wash., July 18.—Owing to numerous robberies by armed bandits near Fairbanks, Alaska, recently, the Miners' and Prospectors' association has asked the secretary of war to send troops to Fairbanks from Ft. Gibbons. General Williams, commander of the department of the Columbia, has been ordered to make an investigation. Alaska men who have just arrived in this city from Fairbanks say that the lawless element from Nome are responsible for the trouble.

Stockyards Men Must Answer.

Kansas City, July 18.—Seven of the twelve stockyards men indicted on Saturday by the grand jury for alleged weighing frauds were arraigned, pleaded not guilty and were released on bonds of from $1,000 to $1,800 each. The cases were set for Oct. 4. The whereabouts of William A. Towers, a prominent cattlemen, who is charged with mortgaging cattle twice, are not known.

LIVING TOO HASTILY

AMERICAN WOMEN BREAKDOWN

Irregularities and Female Derangements Result—Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Owing to our mode and manner of living, and the nervous haste of every woman to accomplish just so much each day, it is said that there is not one woman in twenty-five but what suffers with some derangement of the female organism, and this is the secret of so many unhappy homes.

No woman can be amiable, light-hearted and happy, a joy to her husband and children, and perform the duties incumbent upon her, when she is suffering with backache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, bearing-down pains, displacement of the womb, spinal weakness or ovarian troubles. Irritability and snappy retorts take the place of pleasantness, and all sunshine is driven out of the home, and lives are wrecked by woman's great enemy—womb trouble.

Read this letter:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I was troubled for eight years with irregularities which broke down my health and brought on extreme nervousness and despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved to be the only medicine which helped me. Day by day I improved in health while taking it until I was entirely cured. I can attend to my social and household duties and thoroughly enjoy life once more, as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, without an ache or a pain."
—Mrs. Chester Curry, 42 Saratoga Street, East Boston, Mass.

At the first indication of ill health, painful or irregular menstruation, pain in the side, headache, backache, bearing-down pains, nervousness or "the blues," secure at once a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

The recent marriage of a couple of cripples, each having only half the proper complement of arms and legs, was noted by the press as a "curiousity." But who notes the marriage, which occurs daily in which both parties are cripples in health.

Crippled health means, as a rule, insufficient nutrition, and lack of nutrition points to disease of the stomach and digestive and nutritive tract. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect nourishment of the body, and so builds it up in sound health and strength.

"I had been a great sufferer from indigestion for the last nine years," writes Mrs. Margaret Single of Owings Mills, Baltimore Co., Md. "I was such a wreck it seemed death was near, but to-day can say I feel like another woman. I have received much and lasting good from Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription.' I have taken twenty-five bottles in all, and followed the advice of Dr. R. V. Pierce, and am happy to say that life is worth living now. A thousand thanks for your treatment."

Do not be cajoled into trading a substance for a shadow. Any substitute offered as "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery" is a shadow of that medicine. There are cures behind every claim made for the "Discovery."

A Japanese Test.

In Japan it appears that one factor entering into the choice of a daughter-in-law is her skill in raising silkworms. There is more to this than appears on the surface of the statement, for it seems that the thread spun by a silkworm is regular and even in proportion, as the worm has been regularly and carefully fed. The prospective mother-in-law carefully and minutely examines the garments of the aspiring bride, judging of her qualifications by their condition.

The Man Who Never Kicks.

There are some people who through slackness, indifference or sheer terror of their fellows go through life suffering many unpleasant things without protest. They dislike "fuss" or they are too careless or happy go lucky to assert themselves; hence they come off badly everywhere. The Kind You Have Always Bought

ELOPED.

Parties Come To Seymour To Be Married By Former Pastor.

Mr. William H. Rothacker and Miss Charlotte Schorman both of Cincinnati came from that place to Seymour on No 1 yesterday morning and unexpectedly presented themselves at the home of their former friend and pastor, Rev. G. W. Shields, on South Walnut street. The parties had been friends of the Shields family for some time past and had always said that when the time came for them to be married they would have no one perform the ceremony but Dr. Shields, but their appearance to be married came as a surprise even though Miss Schorman has been in correspondence with the Shields family since their removal of residence to this place.

Miss Schorman is a talented young lady, having been for two years a singer in the Central Church, of Cincinnati, of which Dr. Shields was pastor. Just what their reason was for eloping we are not in a position to state. They drove to Brownstown yesterday afternoon and secured a license and the wedding took place last evening at Dr. Shields residence, where they spent the night. They left this morning on No. 4 for Cincinnati to receive the approval or disapproval of unsuspecting relatives.

SEEING AMERICA.

Wonderful Scenic Trip Across Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, by Pennsylvania Lines, beginning May 23rd and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonderland of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when those great sights should be seen in reality? The trip was never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensive than ever. For only a slight difference in fare tourists may extend their trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the west. POLITELY NON-COMMITTAL.

Chairman Goodrich Not Talking Politics in This Temperature.

Indianapolis, July 18.—Chairman Goodrich of the Republican state committee, appeared before the state board of tax commissioners today on behalf of the Hazelton Gas company of Anderson. After he finished his statement there several party leaders attempted to learn something of his political plans, but he was politely non-committal and left them in the dark as to what he intends to do. H. C. Starr of Richmond, chairman of the executive committee of the Republican state committee, was here to appear before the commissioners. He and Goodrich were in consultation for nearly an hour. Judge Rabb of Williamsport, a candidate for nomination for judge of the appellate court, was introduced to the members of the board by Governor Hanly. The board is now hearing from the representatives of telephone and interurban companies.

The Indiana railway commission, which is costing the state about $20,000 a year, is trying to justify its existence and hopes to be able to make a good showing before the next session of the legislature. It has already taken action in a number of complaints that will save the coal operators, dealers and consumers considerable cash by getting the railroads to make a much lower freight rate. It is now trying to bring the railroads to time on a proposition for a fair adjustment of the excess baggage rule. Perhaps the most important case pending is that of a local wholesale grocery firm to compel the Vandallia to charge for domestic hauls a rate in conformity with the interstate commerce commission rate. The rate is now declared to be very high. The decision in the case will probably be regarded as a precedent and the railroads and shippers are much interested. The commission is proceeding in a systematic way toward perfecting an organization to save the shippers and dealers many thousands of dollars annually.

Warden Reid of the state prison, Michigan City, was here today en route home. He called on the governor and other state officials. He was asked jokingly whether or not Governor Hanly's new police board is "holding down the lid" at Michigan City. He said he did not know. "The lid is on at the prison, however," he added, humorously. The warden says he knows nothing of the situation at Michigan City, as he spends all his time at the prison. He is now going ahead with preparations for the execution of Edward Donahue of Benton Harbor, Mich., who was convicted of the murder of Arminster Nortrup of Hobart, Ind., for robbery. It is said that Donahue is still very hopeful that his sentence will be commuted to life imprisonment. Governor Hanly has been asked to take action in that direction, but he has not indicated what he will do.

The question of whether or not too much civilization pays has been raised at the statehouse on account of the report of Secretary Hurty of the state board of health for June, which shows that Brown county, which is without railroads and other so-called "civilizing" agents, had the lowest death rate of any county in Indiana, the rate being 3.7, while the city of Terre Haute, noted for many years as a wide-open town, had the largest death rate, the rate there being 18.6. The city death rate was 2.1 higher than the rate for the entire state. There were eleven murders and twenty-one suicides in the state during the month.

Ruth, the little daughter of E. N. Dewey, of Agnewville, Va., was seriously ill of cholera infantum last summer. "We gave her up and did not expect her to live from one hour to another," he says. "I happened to think of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and got a bottle of it from the store. In five hours I saw a change for the better. We kept on giving it and before she had taken the half of one small bottle she was well." This remedy is for sale by C. W. Milhous.

The pressing or stamping of the molded pieces is done by hand. From three to four weeks are required for drying. The cost is said not to exceed half that of natural stone, and the durability is equal.—Youth's Companion.

Regimental Reunions and Forty Second Anniversary Battle Chickamauga, Chattanooga, September 17-21, 1905.

On September 18, 1905, will occur the forty-second anniversary of the Battle of Chickamauga. It is proposed to celebrate this memorable event with a reunion of the various regiments that participated in this memorable battle, and, in addition, to hold at the same time, a grand reunion of all the regiments that participated in the various battles fought around Chickamauga. This reunion will be held at Chickamauga National Park, September 18, 19 and 20, and the present indications are that it will be the largest and most notable gathering ever held in the south. On the above dates, the remnants from the armies of twelve states, comprising the following: Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas and Kentucky, will assemble, many for the first time since they marched from its blood-stained fields, forty-two years ago.

Grand and glorious will be the meeting and all who attend will have cause to rejoice. The lowest rate ever secured has been given, the entire public for this occasion, one cent per mile, short line distance.

Here is one of the great opportunities for the education of the youth. Don't fail to take your children and show them historic Chattanooga, with all its historical connections. It is the opportunity of a lifetime. Go and see the old war generals' and other officers point out the places of interest on the battlefield; let them show you and explain, in person, the markers erected on the battlefield showing the positions of the opposing armies at the time of battle. It will not be long until notice will be left to do this noble work; take this opportunity and don't let it escape you. It is worth six months in the school room to any student.

It will be many years, if ever again, that such an opportunity will present itself. See that your tickets read via the Louisville & Nashville R. R., the Battlefield Route. Call on your nearest railroad agent for rates and advertising matter pertaining to the reunion or write nearest representative of the Louisville & Nashville R. R.

CONTRACT CLOSED. NEW CANDY HOUSE.

Monarch Carnival Company to be at Log Rolling.

The amusement committee of the Log Rolling Association have closed the contract with the great Monarch Carnival Company to furnish the attractions for the Log Rolling and Encampment September 4-9. The contract calls for a long list of excellent pay shows together with the great military band, the latest Twentieth Century circle swing and ferris wheel and six high class free acts every day, including the Great Nevada, who jumps a fifty foot gap on his bicycle, which is one of the most sensational feats before the public today.

Those in charge have been very careful to select the best company for this encampment. The carnivals and street fairs in our city heretofore were entirely successful and this one bids well to come up to the high standard of those preceding it.

Passenger Station Burned.

The Union Passenger Station at Tenth and Broadway, Louisville, was destroyed by fire Monday night entailing a loss of over $350,000. The amount of insurance is not known.

The fire was discovered about 9:45 o'clock on the top floor of the four-story stone structure, and although every fire engine in the city except the reserves was on the scene in half an hour, the flames gained steadily and two hours after the start the building was eaten to a shell, only the walls being left standing. Fortunately the fire occurred at a time when few trains were scheduled to arrive and depart, and only a small crowd of passengers was in the building. There was no panic and no casualties ensued. Defective insulation on electric wires is thought to have caused the fire.

Don't Carry a Gun.

Under the provisions of the Indiana law carrying concealed weapons is a crime of no small importance. When any person has been arrested for carrying concealed weapons and found guilty, the weapon is not returned to its owner but broken up by the sheriff.

Each policeman or other officer who finds a concealed weapon on a person must turn it over to the sheriff, and make an oath that he has done so. Under the order of the circuit court the weapon is destroyed by the sheriff.

When a person is convicted three times within two years for carrying concealed weapons the third offense means that he will have to go to the penitentiary for not more than one year. The law takes in all kinds of weapons that can be concealed, from sling shots to swords.

CONSIDER THIS OUTING

To Famous Seashore Resorts, in Planning Your Vacation.

By far the most attractive trip for health and pleasure the coming vacation season is that offered by the Seashore excursion Thursday, August 17th, over Pennsylvania Lines to Atlantic City, Cape May and seven other famous summer havens on the Atlantic Coast.

The fast through train over Pennsylvania Lines takes passengers in a few hours out of the heat and humidity of summer to the cool breezes of old ocean. This mid-August excursion occurs in the season for rest when it is most convenient to leave business. Excursionists have the added pleasure of seeing Atlantic City when it is in full tide of the fashionable season. The greatest representative gatherings ever known at any resort are seen at Atlantic City. As many as 50,000 people at one time promenade the famous boardwalk. The fashionable bathing hour present an unparalleled scene—fully 100,000 bathers in the sea and on the beach.

Special low fares will be in effect for this Seashore excursion. Further information will be freely given by local ticket agents of the Pennsylvania Lines.

A WAY OUT OF IT

Ryan Now Has a Plan to Lead Equitable Out of Woods.

New York, July 18.—From a circular of the Equitable Life Assurance Society it is learned that Thomas F. Ryan, who recently purchased the stock holdings of James H. Hyde, has made an agreement with the three trustees of the Ryan holdings, and the newly elected directors to sell the stock he purchased back to the Equitable society.

This sale is to be made as soon as possible, it is stated, and Mr. Ryan has agreed to turn it in to the society, thus thoroughly nullifying it, for the same sum he paid for it, $2,500,000, plus 4 per cent interest, between the dates of his purchase and the sale.

It was stated that a number of the newly chosen directors, those selected by Grover Cleveland, Judge Morgan J. O'Brien and George Westinghouse, the trustees, accepted posts in the directorate only after they had been assured most emphatically that such an agreement was in view and that such an agreement existed between Mr. Ryan and the three trustees.

Indigestion Cured.

There is no case of indigestion, dyspepsia or stomach trouble that will not yield to the digestive and strengthening influence of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. This remedy takes the strain off the stomach by digesting what you eat and allowing it to rest until it grows strong again. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure affords quick and permanent relief from indigestion and all stomach troubles, builds up the system and so purifies that disease can not attack and gain a foothold as when in a weakened condition. Sold by A. J. Pellens and W. F. Peter Drug.

General Blackmar's Funeral.

Boston, Mass., July 18.—While all the arrangements for the funeral of General Blackmar have not been completed, it is probable it will be held here next Sunday. The board of alderman adopted resolutions and as a mark of respect adjourned. General Blackmar was a member of the city government in 1872 and 1873.

Two Men Slain in Church.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., July 18.—News has been received here of a desperate fight on Fraley creek, Lee county, in which John Muller of Breathitt county, shot and killed James Crees and J. M. Thomas. The shooting occurred at a church during services. Muller was arrested and lodged in jail at Beattyville.

Indiana Man Elected.

Cleveland, O., July 18.—At last night's session of the Amalgamated Window Glass Workers, A. L. Faulkner of Dunkirk, Ind., was elected president by 119 votes to 53 for David Winters.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

He Photographed the Forts.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 18.—Dr. Franklin Clarke, an American, has been arrested here for breach of the official secret service act. Some days ago Dr. Clarke was discovered taking photographs of the forts protecting Port Royal and Kingston. The police found the photographs on him. The prisoner, who is a graduate of Harvard, has been a resident here for four months.

Unusually heavy rainstorms are reported in various parts of Germany. Along the Rhine above Cologne, the rain was the heaviest ever known.

William F. Hubbard, aged twenty-eight, a forest assistant in the forest service of the department of agriculture, was drowned in the Potomac river.

Three Good and Just Reasons.

There are three reasons why mothers prefer One Minute Cough Cure: First, it is absolutely harmless. Second, it tastes good—children love it. Third, it cures coughs, croup and whooping cough when other remedies fail. Sold by A. J. Pellens and W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Early Risers
The famous little pills.

Two Dyspeptics

If you are too fat it is because your food turns to fat instead of muscle—strength. If you are too lean the fat producing foods that you eat are not properly digested and assimilated. Lean, thin, stringy people do not have enough Pepsin in the stomach, while fat people have too much Pepsin and not enough Pancreatine.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

contains all the digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach, and in exactly those proportions necessary to enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate all foods that may be eaten. Kodol is not only a perfect digestant, but it is a reconstructive, tissue building tonic as well. Kodol cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Palpitation of the Heart and Constipation. You will like it.

Digests What You Eat

Rests the stomach, rebuilds the tissues and gives firm flesh.

Dollar bottle holds 24 times as much as the trial, or 50 cent size.

THE THIRD PARTY

Will Put a Ticket in the Field in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, July 18.—The Prohibitionists will put a city ticket in the field for the coming municipal campaign. A convention will be held in the criminal courtroom the night of July 25 to make the nominations. It is very probable that George Hitz, who ran as the independent Prohibitionist candidate for mayor two years ago, receiving nearly 6,000 votes, will be nominated. Charles A. Bookwalter, Republican candidate for mayor, is spending the summer vacation at Lake Waukegan and will probably not open his campaign before the latter part of next month. Mayor Holtzman is an active candidate, although he has not said so. One of his friends pointed out today that Holtzman has never been defeated here as a candidate.

Good for Stomach Trouble and Constipation.

"Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets have done me a great deal of good," says C. Towns, of Portage, Ontario, Canada. "Being a mild physician the after effects are not unpleasant and I can recommend them to all who suffer from stomach disorder. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

The Fulton Case.

Ira, Kan., July 18.—The trial of ex-Congressman E. H. Fulton, charged with infamously uttering an earning capricious word as the result of the dynamiting of three saloons here last week, ended last night and Judge Fulton decided that he would reserve his opinion until next Wednesday. Mr. Fulton flatly contradicted the testimony for the prosecution.

Try to Eat His Baby Brother. Columbus, O., July 18.—While the members of the family of J. L. Shillfield were out on the children's roof, a three-year-old boy climbed into the baby's cradle and fearfully lacerated his nose and cheeks with his teeth. He had conceived a dislike for the youngster.

Child Mine Accident. Chicago, Ind., July 18.—John Small, while working in the Latta Creek mine, had his back broken by falling slate.

Do You Want Strength?

If you want to increase your strength you must add to and not take from the physical. In other words, the food that you eat must be digested, assimilated and appropriated by the nerves, blood and tissues before being expelled from the intestines. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure adds to the physical. It gives strength to and builds up strength in the human system. It is pleasant to the taste and palatable, and the only combination of digestants that will digest the food and enable the system to appropriate all of its health and strength-giving qualities. Sold by A. J. Pellens and W. F. Peter Drug Co.

The Baldheaded Eagle.

The staid, dignified and homely bald-headed eagle, the glorious emblem of the American republic, mates but once and lives with his one mate until he or she dies. If left a widower—even a young widower—the baldheaded eagle never mates again. He remains alone and disconsolate in the nest on the rocky crag or in the branches of a tall pine that formed his domicile while his mate was alive. No other female eagle can tempt him to forsake his disconsolate life.

Buy It Now.

Now is the time to buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is certain to be needed sooner or later and when that time comes you will need it badly—you will need it quickly. Buy it now. It may save life. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

A BLOODY RECORD

Long List of Murders in a Vigo County Mining Town.

ATTRIBUTED TO SALOON

Within a Narrow Limit Eight Murders Have Been Committed During Past Eighteen Months.

Usually These Tragedies Have Occurred in Saloons—the Latest Case.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 18.—Another murder has been added to the long list in the Barnett and Grant mining neighborhood, near this city. Richard Roberts, a negro miner, shot and killed an old negro, whose identity is a matter of doubt. The shooting occurred in Perry Johnson's saloon, where the bartender, William Turpin, recently killed Marion Bryant. Within a few hundred feet of this saloon eight murders have been committed within eighteen months. In the mining settlements of Grant, Burnett and Elmhurst there have been a dozen tragedies in the last few years, usually in saloons. The man killed by Roberts was bemoaning the loss of a $10 bill, and the shooting followed without ground of self-defense. Roberts is still at large.

WAITING THE HOUR OF DEATH

Edward Donahue, Convicted of Murder Hopeful of Interference.

Michigan City, Ind., July 18.—Unless Governor Hanly should interfere Edward Donahue, convicted of the murder of Arminator Nortrup of Benton Harbor, Mich., near Hobart, this state, will be executed in the state prison early Friday morning of this week. Donahue is still hopeful that something will save him from the gallows. He believes that the governor will commute his sentence because he was convicted on circumstantial evidence. The warden has received no intimation that the governor will interfere, and he is going ahead with the arrangements for the execution. Donahue shows no signs of weakening. He eats regularly with undoubted relish, and sleeps well. Those who are in close touch with him feel confident that he will not break down in his last hours and make a confession, but they expect to see him go to his death with protestations of innocence. Save for occasional spells of restlessness, he shows remarkable composure. They have never believed that he was insane, nor even slightly affected mentally.

Died in Effort to Save Hog.

Frankfort, Ind., July 18.—Andrew Swadner, fifty years of age, a well-known resident of the city, was instantly killed by a Monon passenger train while endeavoring to save a valuable hog from being run over. Mr. Swadner heard the approaching train and saw the hog between the rails. He ran after the beast, which, with customary perverseness, headed down the track, with the train rapidly approaching from the rear. Mr. Swadner looked back twice but he failed to realize the nearness or swiftness of the train, and the third time he glanced back he was struck and killed.

Trolley Cars Come Together.

Hartford City, Ind., July 18.—A passenger car and work car crashed into each other on a curve on the Muncie, Hartford City & Fort Wayne interurban, two miles north of this city. Seventeen persons were injured, two seriously. John Butler, motorman of passenger car was cut about head and body and hurt internally, and T. J. Howe, Maumee, O., traveling salesman, received internal injuries and his leg and arm were broken; may die.

Money Found in Her Hair.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 18.—Anna Foster, chambermaid at the new National hotel, has been held under bonds for grand jury action on the charge of larceny. F. O. Lewis, a Big Four bridge workman, left $33 under his pillow at the hotel. The money was found rolled in her hair.

Fisherman Drowned.

Greencastle, Ind., July 18.—While a party of friends were seeking for fish in Big Walnut creek, near this city, Isaac Moran, who was wading in deep water, caught his feet in the lead lines and was pulled underneath and drowned.

No One Was Killed.

Clinton, Ind., July 18.—Frank Stoggs and a number of Italians became involved in a saloon fight, and Stoggs shot his way out. No one was killed. Several arrests were made.

She Left a Note.

Elkhart, Ind., July 18.—Mrs. Ida Stockford, widow, committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas, leaving a note indicating disappointment in love.

Child Caught by Cars.

Jeffersonville, Ind., July 18.—Anna Ziehm, nine years old, stepped in front of a suburban train on the Pennsylvania line and was instantly killed.
